VOLUME 2, ISSUE 10.

October 2007

Dear WRGN Supporters,

Listings for the month ahead, a book review and articles from the Openhand Centre and Ian Crane comprise the October newsletter. We also welcome the association of the University of Life and the South Coast Dowsers based in Bournemouth with the network.

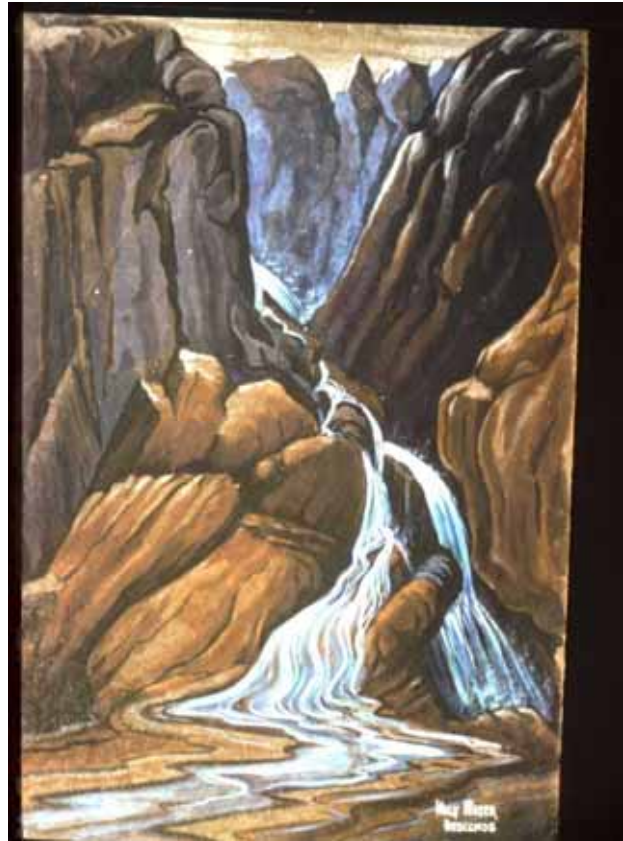

Apologies, to any body inconvenienced by the recent disruption to the WRGNetwork web site. The site is being redeveloped and will be re-launched as www.wessexresearchgroup.org in the very near future.

Three Gateways to Enlightenment

At the Openhand centre, we consider there are three key gateways to enlightenment. The first is the recognition that everything in the external world is merely a reflection of something being experienced internally. To step through this gateway, we have to surrender the need to shape external events and realise the key to our unfolding is the release of energy arising within us - caused by our attachment to external events - so that we may find internal harmony in all circumstances...

The second gateway is the realisation deep within that there is no separation between what is 'in here' and what is 'out there'. In other words as we step through the gateway we experience unity consciousness. We become 'the witnesser' - the consciousness of the creator in all things. There comes with it a sublime feeling of being at-one with the whole of creation as the apparent duality between inner subject and outer object dissolves. There is a liberating blissful feeling when stepping through this gateway and many think they have become enlightened but while we may be awakened, this is still only a reflection of enlightenment.

The third gateway leads to total liberation. It is stepping out of the illusionary world of experience into absoluteness beyond all experience. It occurs in all of us from time to time although it is mostly missed. It could be for example the experience of gardening on a warm summer's day when time dissolves and hours later we rediscover ourselves not realising where the time went. It is so awesomely ordinary that we have great difficulty in accepting it is the objective of everything we have.

The moment we are 'looking at' this experience of freedom and liberation - a 'non experience' - is the moment we recreate 'the witnesser' and step back out of enlightenment. We step into and out of this third gateway many times until finally we give up trying to understand it, we surrender trying to experience it and simply settle into full enlightenment. The witnesser becomes witnessing.

The experience becomes a normal state of perception without an inner witness seeking or trying to understand what that state of perception is:

*"To know the truth is to know the self.
to know the self is to know what the self is not.
To be at one with what the self is and is not...
in every moment,
is to be enlightened by all things.
Then there is no trace of enlightenment,
although enlightenment flows through our daily lives endlessly."*

New World Order and Codex Alimentarius – The Future of Natural Health by Ian Crane

Few people would argue that the 21st Century has been uneventful, yet the vast majority stay locked in a paradigm of 'bread and circuses'; working increasingly long hours in response to spiralling costs and lulled into indifference by daily doses of Eastenders, Corrie, Big Brother or Sport.

Consequently, few people will be aware that on 15th May 2007, just six weeks before being appointed Prime Minister, Gordon Brown joined ranks with George Bush Snr by publicly stating his commitment to the political philosophy of globalisation and the establishment of a New World Order.

So what does all this have to do with Natural Health? Part of the New World Order agenda is to restrict and ultimately prohibit the sale of all natural health products. According to John Hammell, a legislative advocate and the founder of International Advocates for Health Freedom (IAHF), here is what we have to look forward to:

"If Codex Alimentarius has its way, then herbs, vitamins, minerals, homeopathic remedies, amino acids and other natural remedies you have taken for granted most of your life will be gone. The name of the game for Codex is to shift all remedies into the prescription category so they can be controlled exclusively by the medical monopoly and its bosses, the major pharmaceutical firms."

However, this is just the tip of the iceberg; behind the Codex Alimentarius Commission are the United Nations and the World Health Organization, working in conjunction with the multinational pharmaceutical cartel and international banks. It is now a criminal offence in parts of Europe to sell herbs as foods. An agreement called EEC6565 equates selling herbs as foods to selling other illegal drugs. Action is being taken to accelerate bringing other European countries into 'harmonisation'. So you see, the Alternative Health Community is under pernicious threat, yet the vast majority of alternative health practitioners or their clients have little or no awareness of the impact that Codex Alimentarius will have on the profession.

What Can We Do? Step number one is to learn as much as possible about the invasive agenda of the New World Order and acknowledge how unfettered global corporatocracy is impacting upon every aspect of our lives & undermining personal liberty.

Ian is an ex-oilfield executive who has lived and worked in the Middle East, mainland Europe and the USA, Ian has spent the past ten years studying mythology, alternative history, ancient wisdom, secret societies & mysticism.

Ian probes the track record of those who openly crave the introduction of a One World hierarchical Government. Exposing the agenda of those who have presided over events leading directly to the launching of illegal wars in Afghanistan & Iraq and who continually demonstrate their desire to perpetuate a state of permanent global conflict; whilst systematically eroding our personal freedoms, through the process of gradualism. For more information about Ian's work telephone 0779 151 8740 or email Ian at ianrcrane@hotmail.com
