VOLUME 3, ISSUE 5.

May 2008

A bumper listing of events scheduled for May, when we welcome the arrival of Carol Fraser from India and the association of the Taunton Association for Psychodynamics and the Richard Glyn Foundation at Gaunts House with the network. The month ahead also sees the start of a series of new talks at Glastonbury WRG group.

The latest additions to the on-line article archive are The Road to 2012 – Reading the Runes of History by Gerry Fenge and Bluestones by Robin Heath. A Guide to Extraterrestrial Contact by Palden Jenkins is the latest lecture to be added to the on-line digital lecture archive.

The Planet of Love

In the lecture the 'Emergence of the Grail Race' Sir George Trevelyan speaks of an unparalleled turnabout in human consciousness; the emergence of an advanced humanity evolving through unconditional love in conjunction with its home planet; itself a living sensate entity.

Such possibilities are certainly part of the worldwide traditions of myth and ancient wisdom, and whilst to some in this modern age, they might be either a certainty or a possibility, to many the scenario of planetary evolution, shifts in consciousness, upheaval and ideas that our human destiny might be closely interwoven with that of the Earth, are not a consideration. We have in mastering the material lost touch with ourselves as spiritual beings and the higher nature of our relationship with our home.

How then might the idea of the existence of a spiritual hierarchy be considered? A heavenly host of love and light, that stands ready to assist each and any one of us that chooses to undertake a journey of rediscovery and reconnection, through unconditional love. All we would have to do is shift our perception of reality, be open to new experience, and ask to work in partnership with an ever loving hierarchy for guidance and protection.

In her work 'Spiritual Hierarchy' Alice Bailey outlines the nature of such a hierarchy, how it has experienced human form and how it seeks to draw closer to humanity. It operates to a specific protocol and must respect our free will. It can not coerce human beings or infringe our mental freedom but can only interact with us from a position of unconditional love.

As Stanley Messenger points out in his lecture 'The Christ and the Feminine', the hierarchy can do nothing without our (human) initiative. With our initiative it can do everything because it is we humans that create the path, the spiritual hierarchy simply guides it and fills it with our human content.

Our freewill gives us an unlimited choice of paths to take and the hierarchy therefore waits patiently, for us to decide on our path of destiny. Who among us will choose to ride out as co-equals with them, open our hearts and so stand shoulder to shoulder with the living Christos in this our planet's hour of need?

The lectures 'Human Values' (Satish Kumar) and the 'Returning Goddess Energy' (John Akayzar) provide pointers as to how we might begin such a journey. We can start by bringing love in to every aspect of our being and doing and seek to balance and understand the nature of the masculine and feminine aspects of ourselves.

The first tentative steps might be the hardest, but if we are prepared to trust in the unconditional love of the spiritual hierarchy, open ourselves and work through the heart, we can all carry the impulse of love whilst retaining our freewill, our individuality, and our differences in physical thinking whilst acting as one human family, united through one impulse.

If as Stanley suggests the Christ's role was to carry the impulse of love to Earth, he also showed us what we might become. We now have the opportunity to work in partnership with spirit and stand as co-creators of the Planet of Love.

What Happened at the Starting Point? An Introduction to Origin.uk.net

Everything has a starting point and Origin.uk.net is a new and exciting project seeking to explore and develop an evidence base for starting points, the origins of all things; that of the universe, the earth, consciousness, the body and traditions, customs and stories.

Origin.uk.net has a commitment to stripping away dogmatic interpretations surrounding the origin of happenings; to reveal the fundamental truths that underpin our humanness.

Does the story begin with our own origin? Were we there to witness it and if so can't remember? Did it happen through chance or because we are part of a great plan administered by a divine entity? A fantastic story in itself, and if we could understand our origin how might better perceive the origins of everything that has followed, our beliefs, rituals, traditions, conflicts and our relationship with the earth.

By celebrating both the existence and origins of the soul and the carbon based body, we might open up fantastic new horizons for ourselves that would include the possibility that we might be able to unite both aspects of our being. If we could better understand our origins we might not only understand better our human journey but also our potential and destiny.

The project is in its infancy and is currently developing its on-line archives. These fall in to three broad categories, the earth, body and spirit and traditions, religions and customs. All material for these will be considered. For further information contact Robin at robin@origin.uk.net

Book Review: Stanton Drew and its Ancient Stone Circles by Gordon Strong

In the sleepy Avon village of Stanton Drew stand the forgotten remains of the third Neolithic temple complex of Southern Britain after Stonehenge and Avebury. Three stone circles, a cove, stone avenues and a vanished Quoit, all with breath taking alignments. In this small and unique guidebook to the site, packed with rare images, Stanton Drew boffin Gordon Strong explores some of the deeper questions raised by sites such as this. What were the ancients up to? Email info@woodenbooks.com for further information or log on to www.woodenbooks.com

Book Review: Soul Companions: Conversations with contemporary wisdom keepers – A collection of encounters with spirit by Karen Sawyer

This book is a treasure trove of spiritual wisdom assembled through conversations with respected healers, seers, visionaries, teachers and shaman from all parts of the world. It provides a marvellous evidence base of knowledge gained through spiritual contact and is an especially useful reference as humanity accelerates in to a period of spiritual, environmental and political change. For further information log on to www.soulcompanions.org or email info@soulcompanions.org

Book Review: Ring Quest: The continuing Story of the Ring by Cassie Martin and Caroline Milton

This is the story of a new quest to rid the world of the Dark Lord's evil Ring of Power. It is based on the idea – which J R Tolkien himself held - that his 'Ring' trilogy was a true story. As with ghosts, the events have become trapped in time, now at another dimension. With the ending of our Age, the evil power of the Ring once again reawakens. This time, under the guidance of a remarkable man, the Fellowship sets out to cleanse the One Ring of its evil vibrations. This can be done at energy centres within astrological outlines, which the authors discover in central London.

The book can be purchased through www.lulu.com as well as Amazon and Barnes & Noble. Alternatively email cassiemartin@tiscali.co.uk
