VOLUME 8, ISSUE 3.

March 2013

March 2013 offers an abundance of events. March 30th sees the first of four networking days organised by the Bath PLG. The theme for this month's event is spiritual development. Contact Jacqui for further details info@jacquistorm.co.uk

Up until March 31st the Wiltshire Crop Circle Study Group are offering an early bird saving of 10% on all weekend and day tickets for the Circles of Knowledge Conference in July. There are also discounts for students and attendees aged over 60. Further details are available at www.wccsg.com

Ecocide: A Crime against the Earth

By Roy Snelling (on behalf of 'Eradicating Ecocide')

Ecocide is the extensive damage to, destruction of or loss of ecosystem(s) of a given territory, whether by human agency or by other causes, to such an extent that peaceful enjoyment by the inhabitants of that territory has been or will be severely diminished.

Some years ago Polly Higgins, an Environmental Barrister practising in London, realised that all existing environmental laws were bottom-up bolt-on to existing National Laws, and were inadequate for dealing with the crime of Ecocide. The United Nations recognises various crimes against peace, such as genocide. But Polly realised that there was no top-down primary law protecting, and recognising the rights of, Gaia, our Mother Earth, as a holistic living being. With such a law in place multi-national corporations and other businesses and organisations that operate with little regard to the 'ethics' of their actions on a universal scale could be held to account. Therefore depletion of rainforests, pollution of oceans, pollution of drinking water, loss of biodiversity and also plant pollinators, could be halted.

In March 2010 Polly proposed to the United Nations that Ecocide become the 5th Crime against Peace. Her mission is to ensure the law of Ecocide is fully implemented by 2020. Such a law will halt dangerous industrial activity and empower governments and business to put people and planet first.

The law of Ecocide has the power to deliver the United Nations Environmental Program's vision for a green economy. This is a law that is global in remit and local in impact; it will create jobs, build resilient economies and create a legal duty of care upon governments, business and banks.

The Ecocide project comprises a number of initiatives. Wish20 is a global citizens initiative to build support for ending all ecocides by 2020. Imagine what our world would look like; an abundance of bio-diverse regions and communities living in harmony with our Earth. Imagine a world where our needs are met whilst ensuring future generations' needs are met too. Imagine a world where we create our businesses from the premise that people and planet come first. This is a world where ecocide no longer exists.

Then there is the European Citizens' Initiative (End Ecocide in Europe). Approved by the European Commission, the ECI is being coordinated by a group of European citizens to criminalise ecocide in European territory and Ecocide committed by European companies or individuals abroad. The project aims to have one million signatures backing it by next year

Human beings continue to manipulate large-scale land use change that causes the direct destruction of habitats – as is the case with deforestation in most tropical rainforests. Open cast mining is removing entire landscapes as is the case with oil sands and some coal and gold mining and we are still creating significant amounts of pollution whether deliberate or incidental – such as oil dumping and spills.

There is wide scientific agreement that the scale of these changes is not sustainable and that continued interference with the Earth system will have significant consequences. The United Nation's Global Environmental Outlook 5 Report 2012 (GEO-5) summarises the anthropogenic impacts on the Earth System, reiterating that they are unprecedented in human history.

We know that we cannot continue to impact ecosystems with impunity forever and for there to be no consequences. The only question that is worth asking is what we will do about it. If you care about our Planet, our home, Mother Earth, please support Polly Higgins and her small team. Their goal should also be our collective goal. Authenticity and Essentials

By Eliakim Joseph Sophia aka Lotus Feet

'Love without integrity is like an ocean without fish, a shop without food and a library without books'.

Its all about the heart for that is where the true conscience is and the moral compass becomes.

The true heart is about essentials, your essential self, and it has a beautiful fragrance just like a Lotus Flower or an Orchid.

True righteousness only comes to be when the essential self is lived in every thought, word and deed. Only then is one pure enough to be given the divine authority to impart justice on behalf of the Lord God.

A mystic has to be a clear wine with a clean plate of consciousness, and a golden cup that is ready to be filled with the word of the Lord God. His insistence on purity; is for the benefit of humanity and its existence on this planet.

That is why serious spirituality and its healing processes are essential to help humanity to get onto the right track to harmony, peace and balance for all.

Only those that have manifested true purity that exists within everyone, are worthy to help their brothers and sisters in the most amazing ways.

By their words that they write you shall know them. For their words are simple, to the point and filled with clarity.

The path has been cleared for you all by strong and courageous people.
