

Wessex Research Group Network Newsletter

VOLUME 8, ISSUE 6.

June 2013

June 2013 is a month full of happening with conferences, retreats, workshops, talks and festivals all scheduled for the weeks ahead.

The Wessex Research Group Network welcomes four new groups.

The Awen Forum which is based in Stroud is organising bi-monthly evenings of inspiring talks, poetry, story & song (see www.awenpublications.co.uk for further details).

The Isle of Wight Positive Living Group based in Newport is a platform for ideas, the emphasis of the talks are on the health of the mind, the body, the spirit and the planet (www.dana-molecki.com)

Firestar Therapies (www.firestartherapies.co.uk) is based at Alweston near Sherborne and offers workshops on a variety of different subjects.

This month's article is written by Eileen McAdam facilitator of the Wessex Astrology Circle. The circle is based in Broadstone in Dorset. A small and friendly group it consists of beginners, professionals and teachers and is open to all. Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month. For further information contact Eileen on 01202 697610 or email EileenMcAdam@aol.com.

The latest addition to the on-line article archive www.wessexresearchgroup.org/literary_resources.html is Britain an Ancient Centre of Learning by Nigel Blair.

Astrology for our Time By Eileen McAdam

There has never been a better time to study astrology. We are living at a pivotal time in world history where old outdated modes of living can no longer sustain us and we know deep down that our survival is at stake. The answers to the great questions of our time do not lie within our scientific tradition but within something that pre-dates science, something of divine origin (astrology).

A study of astrology can guide us in our new endeavours. Many of us were deeply aware of the significance of the end of the Mayan era on 21st December last and coinciding with these times our Western Astrology sees the challenging times we face.

In our own personal lives, we all have powers to make the change, and an understanding of our own astrology chart can indicate our personal potentials and missions, pointing us in the right direction for being part of the big change. The outer planets Uranus and Pluto are in powerful conflict affecting the big changes occurring beyond our control to the world at large. And yet, each of us chose to be alive at these significant times and many of us now have the opportunity of using the talents we were born with and so are living the life we were born to. We all have a chance to be part of the change, to make the difference, and in the words of the Maya

"We are the ones we have been waiting for."

Uranus, in the sign of Aries is the rebel, the fighter, the activist who can no longer stand on the sidelines. Pluto in Capricorn is purging through the big businesses, corporations and financial institutions bringing to public awareness past errors and misdemeanours. Saturn the planet of responsibility and restrictions, is also known in spiritual circles as the "ring-pass-not" for seen through a telescope it can be identified by its circular halo around its perimeter, represents our personal boundaries. Saturn also plays a very big role in our future achievements. It will be travelling through Scorpio for the next couple of years, enhancing the role of Pluto in bringing reform and purging old systems. Neptune is now travelling through its own sign of Pisces, bringing greater intuition and mystical insights into the lives of many.

Whatever your level of astrological understanding, or even if you know nothing at all but are just curious, astrology can give you a greater understanding of how the universe works. Our lives on Earth can often lead us to feel disconnected from the universe. Astrology reminds us of this connection and the reality that the microcosm is a reflection of the macrocosm something embodied in the saying "As Above so Below".

Book Review. The Planetary Matrix

By Roy Snelling

The Planetary Matrix is a book about geomancy. In 2005 I discovered the existence of five, possibly six, giant psychic crystals embedded within the etheric or spiritual bodies of the Planet whose apexes and edge-lines, when projected up to the surface of the Earth, form the comprehensive primary framework of ley-lines around the Planet.

The book explores the nature of these psychic crystals, known to Medieval Alchemy as 'Platonic-solids', and their relationship to the 'five-elements' of nature postulated by Plato (earth, water, air, fire and ether), how each solid or figure is constructed on the principles of the 'Golden-Ratio', which itself is related to the 'Fibonacci-series' of numbers. Each of the five Platonic solids are explored in turn (cube / earth; icosehedron / water; octahedron / air; tetrahedron / fire; dodecahedron / ether).

Using a computer program and trigonometry the optimum size of each solid is calculated so that it will fit into the sphere of the Earth. Each is then positioned so that it will fit exactly into all the others. The complex of edge-lines from all these figures, projected onto the surface of the Earth, then forms the complete primary matrix of energy lines over the surface of the planet. In orienting the figures within the Earth they are anchored onto important sacred sites such as the Great Pyramid of Giza and Chartres Cathedral, which seems to be part of a giant Earth-temple that extends into Southern England. The work of various past researchers into geomancy is then examined in respect of various lines and sites in Southern and Central England and Wales.

The book also presents the reader with a framework and methodology whereby they can carry out their own detailed study of the area where they are living. At long last the serious researcher into geomancy will have the background that will enable them to study ley-lines and sacred sites that actually exist and avoid the large amount of guesswork involved in dowsing for such or placing a ruler on an Ordnance Survey plan to find an alignment that is not an actual energy line but just an alignment.
